TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE.

By Appointment.

The Great Hall. Panelled wainscotting, a high dais, crowds of pictures and the spacious dignity of architecture one connects with Wren, help to make this handsome place of abode for these old in-pensioners and out-pensioners (the latter outnumbering the former by about 200 to 1). Here they smoke and play billiards and cribbage, and gossip with their friends. This great Hall saw the week's lying-in-state of the Duke of Wellingtons, in 1852.

(For Address Only.)
